

PORTRAITS IN COLOR

Portraits in Color is a photograph series made up of several portraits of seven different models. These photographs were created by using various combinations of colored LED lights paired with a black background and a dark room. The dramatic lighting helped to capture the unique and stunning features of each model.

Katia Carnevale chose this concept because she wanted to combine her love for color and her friends and be able to document them together in a fun and untraditional style. She hoped to create a modern and light hearted series that expressed a wide range of emotion.
